

The Erma Byrd Center Spotlight is on Bluefield State College's Hope Adams, Program Assistant II

An Interview with Bluefield State College's Hope Adams, Program Assistant II
by Lisa Moten, Erma Byrd Center Director

Lisa Moten: How long have you worked at the Erma Byrd Center?

Hope Adams: I have worked at the Erma Byrd Center for five years!

Lisa Moten: What role do you serve at the Erma Byrd Center?

Hope Adams: As a Program Assistant II, I provide a one-stop shop for students acting as a liaison between the Erma Byrd Center and the main campus located in Bluefield, WV.

As a result, my duties are different daily as I do whatever it takes to support the students, faculty, and/or administration with any need(s) that they may have. If I cannot assist them, I connect them with the appropriate office (at the main campus) that can assist them.

Lisa Moten: What do you like most about working at the Erma Byrd Center?

Hope Adams: Actually, this is my favorite job (in my fifteen years of working in higher education) because of the variety of services we provide to the students! The students are the best part of working here at the Center! Everyday is a new challenge! It is also exciting to be part of the collaboration that exists under one roof!
