

The Erma Byrd Center Faculty Spotlight is on Concord University's Robbin Durham, Adjunct Instructor of Social Work

An Interview with Concord University's Robbin Durham, Adjunct Instructor of Social Work, by Lisa Moten, Erma Byrd Center Director

Lisa Moten: How long have you been teaching at the Erma Byrd Center?

Robbin Durham: Since the Erma Byrd Center opened. Before then, classes were at the Mine Academy.

Lisa Moten: What do you enjoy most about teaching at the Erma Byrd Center?

Robbin Durham: The presence of the Erma Byrd Center makes it convenient for students, especially non-traditional. I love the technology. It makes it so easy to introduce material.

Lisa Moten: Share your best teaching tip to keep students engaged in learning.

Robbin Durham: That's a tough one. I would like to think that bringing in examples and stories from the social work field helps. I want them to understand that what they learn from the books applies to the real world.
