

The BB&T Bank Bus comes to the Erma Byrd Higher Education Center on Thursday, April 21, 2016, 9am–3pm, sponsored by Bluefield State College!

An Interview with Bluefield State College's
Dr. Sarita Rhonemus, Director, Multi-Locations & Regents
Bachelor of Arts (RBA) Program
by Lisa Moten, Erma Byrd Center Director

Lisa Moten: What student learning outcomes do you hope to accomplish by having the BB&T Bank Bus at the Erma Byrd Center today?

Dr. Sarita Rhonemus: "I want students to have a better understanding about how their financial credit score affects their future purchasing and borrowing power. Financial literacy is such an important part of our lives and especially theirs as they maneuver through financial aid, student loans, and the budgeting process that enables them to become savvy consumers."

Many students will graduate with student loan debt and with that comes much responsibility coupled with careful financial planning. We hope this service provides our students a better understanding of how money works in their lives—now and in the future."
